

PIERRE GOURSAT UNIVERSITY INSTITUTE

Summer School 2010
Rome, 26 – 29 August

Pierre Goursat University Institute

Serving the integral training of the human person. Serving research and development. In a fully Christian perspective

The Pierre Goursat University Institute (IUPG) will hold its third Summer School, in Rome. The IUPG Summer school is open to all those involved in thinking through the life and mission of the university today: university teachers and researchers, professionals with doctoral qualifications, students working on Ph.D and Masters 2 theses, teams leading students residencies and student chaplaincies.

Three working days will include keynote lectures, working groups on practical themes, and presentation of Ph. D work from current Ph.D students. There will also be specific times of discovering Rome (Masses at St. John Lateran and St Peters etc.), and the Italian university reality.
